++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry start, with some isolated showers later. Sunny spells.

Today:
A dry start across the region. Patchy cloud developing later in the morning allowing for sunny spells. However, this cloud is likely to bring isolated showers through the day, some of these occasionally heavy. Feeling warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
This evening, any remaining showers ease and clear into the night, leaving settled and dry conditions throughout. Little to no cloud allowing for plenty of clear spells. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another dry start, leading into a fine day for most with plenty of sunshine. Patchy cloud in southernmost and easternmost areas will bring occasional showers. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Some drizzle in places Thursday morning, with the odd shower later, but largely dry throughout with a few sunny spells. Dry and bright Friday and Saturday. Feeling warmer than recently.
